Whiskey And Gasoline At Root Of Fines Enriching City Coffers

Cameron citizens may be no more or no less law abiding than ever but the city coffers are noting a precipitous rise in fine monies turned in by City Police on fines.

Within one month since the advent of the new department under the charter and with more men on the force, Chief Dolan has turned in $361.50 in fines assessed principally against drunks and speeders chief Dolan reports. Many of the drunks picked up, says the chief were either taken home or sent home but others who plainly demonstrated that they did not intend to behave themselves were jailed and later financed under misdemeanor charges of "Being drunk on public streets." The figure of $361.50 is compared with figures on the city's books showing that in the past four years the average turned into the city in fines aggregated $746.

What Is "A Hot Rod"
By An "Accelerator"
Some people think a hot rod is a car that has been chopped and dropped down a couple of inches with dual exhaust and a high powered engine to give it more speed. Yes, this is partly right, but don't 56 models go faster than the 54 and 55 models? So what is the difference? People who don't know the true meaning of hot rods say, "Look at that hot rod. It is all souped up so it can go fast and kill people." So it can't jump to conclusions. How do you know how fast it can go? Maybe it can go 120 mph. and maybe only fifty. Do you want to know what a hot rod really is? It is a car fixed the way a person likes it. They are built to stop quicker, handle better on the road, and give you better gas mileage and comfort while you ride along the highway. Just a little reminder: Slow is a four letter word, so is Life. Speed is a five letter word, so is Death.

James Mesecke, two miles south of Summers Mill, has worked out a conservation plan for his entire farm. Realizing the needs of the land, he plans to use each acre of land within its capability and treat it according to its needs.

Mesecke plans to follow a systematic land treatment of cover crops, terraces, crop residue tillage and fertilization on his crop land. Waterways to be installed where needed for terrace outlets and to handle outside water coming across his farm. He further plans to seed abandoned cropland to King Ranch bluestem and overseed all pasture with Melilotus indica sweetclover. Cross fences and lanes will be constructed to take advantage of his water supply to maintain proper use of grasses by leaving 25 percent of each year's growth.

Mesecke was assisted in the planning of his farm by Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Little River San Gabriel Soil Conservation District.

Note Payments Can Depend Heavily On Live-At-Home Plan

Keeping notes current has a direct connection with raising food at home believes a County Committeeman according to a letter from Farmers Home Administration.

If you don't see the connection the letter explains: "We are proud of the fact that we do not have a serious delinquency among borrowers. We do have a few operating loan borrowers who have delinquent notes," the letter reads.

"If they raised their food at home, their notes would be current," a committeeman said and up comes the F.H.A. with a suggested live-at-home program. 1. A good garden 6-9 months out of the year. 2. Produce your own milk and butter. 3. Grow and kill all the beef, pork, and chickens you need for your family. 4. Produce at least all the eggs you need. 5. Freeze or can at least 75 quarts of food per family member.

Zooming Cost Of Construction Brings Aluminum To Forefront

Aluminum Company of America today foresees a need for expansion which may involve capital expenditures of up to $600 million in the next five years, it was disclosed recently by I. W. Wilson Alcoa's president.

Discussing the company's short-range financial plans before the New York Society of Security Analysts, Mr. Wilson also said the company was gearing both its production and sales programs to meet expanding markets, adding:

"I can assure you that Alcoa intends to strengthen its leading position in the industry in spite of competition."

Analyzing the basis for Alcoa's optimism, Mr. Wilson stated there seemed to be no practical limit to possible applications for aluminum. He pointed to the wide variety of existing uses and future possibilities for market development.

As one outstanding example, he referred to the construction industry.

"The facts are that with present costs of construction, it is no longer possible to ignore the advantages of mass production and ease of erection that aluminum panels offer. The materials and methods used in building the old Roman baths and Egyptian pyramids may have been good enough for the Romans and Egyptians, but they won't stand up to the research and development that is going on in America today."

How Much Housepower Have You?

"Housepower" is probably a brand-new word to you. But it won't be for long. It is the key-word in a pending national campaign aimed at the wiring bottleneck in American homes. That is a real bottleneck indeed, in this age in which householders want and buy more and more time-saving, labor-saving, and pleasure-providing electric appliances. All you have to do to make the appliances work, generally speaking, is to plug the cords into wall outlets. And there's the catch. For the chance is strong that there won't be enough juice back of those outlets to efficiently and safely power call the equipment you may have or be planning on.

Here are the facts. At least 20 million American homes need modernized wiring to meet the new demands caused by the ever-increasing number of home appliances. The number is steadily increasing. About half of our homes are more than 30 years old, and electric use was small when they were built. And the problem is not limited to these older homes. A discouragingly high percentage of the wiring that goes into new homes can best be described as skimpy.

Wiring troubles show up in various ways - ineffective operation of appliances, dim, shrinking, flickering TV pictures, and frequent blown fuses are common symptoms. Also, when wiring is inadequate, major appliances such as electric ranges and dryers can't be installed.

So - how is your Housepower?

More Than She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—seven or eight years ago—but still keeps a half-dozen purebreds more or less as a hobby.

Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperature-controlled barn, expensive feed... the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.

Recently, a neighbor complained—asked if she couldn't get the milk "at cost." Dad agreed, sent her a bill for exactly what the milk cost: 75¢ a quart.

From where I sit, it's easy to misunderstand if you don't get all the facts. That's why we ought to consider the other fellow's viewpoint before we talk out. For example, you have your reasons for liking particular beverages. I have mine. And whether we're talking about buttermilk or beer...let's try to respect each other's point of view.

MRS. J. W. MEYER

A parade down town Saturday afternoon consisting of 3 cars, a float and other gaily decorated vehicles was a prelude to Baptist Vacation Bible school, opening day Monday. Classes held daily will begin Monday morning at 8, through 11:30 a.m. Mrs. C. R. Criswell, superintendent of the Bible school invites all children to attend.

"I believe my record as two-time assistant attorney general, prosecuting district attorney and supreme court associate justice qualify me to do the job."

Wilson was elected to the Court in 1950 by a heavy majority. He is one of the youngest men ever to serve on the high bench. While District Attorney he gained national recognition in stamping out organized crime in Dallas.

Selected by U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath as one of the five district attorneys in the United States to speak before the Department of Justice's Conference on Organized Crime in Washington in 1950, Wilson was commended as one of the outstanding prosecutors of crime in the nation.

As assistant Attorney General of Texas under Gerald Mann and Grover Sellers in 1941-42, Wilson successfully prosecuted cases involving millions of dollars for Texas school children.

Wilson served in World War II in combat throughout the South Pacific in army campaigns ranging from New Guinea to Luzon and was decorated for patrol activity behind enemy lines.

Born forty-four years ago in Dallas, Wilson received a Bachelor of Science degree in geology in 1934 and was graduated from Southern Methodist University of Law School with the top record in his class.

Married and the father of two children, he and Mrs. Wilson live at 2201 Stamford Lane in Austin.

INTRODUCING:

His paternal grandfather, whose business is keeper of vital statistics for Miam County, is Leo O'Neill. Mr. O'Neill thinks this statistic, even though in Oklahoma is still vital even though several weeks old.

He doesn't stop there he points out another important statistic which happened 3½ years ago namely the birth of Mike O'Neill (a brother of John Richard).

"I cannot remain on the Supreme Court while I campaign for Attorney General," he said.

On the issue of corruption in Texas government, Wilson's statement was quick and clear-cut:

"We're way past that as an issue. The only issue today is who

Hubam Clover A Must On "Best Land In State"

Joe Mueck, J. W. Hickman and Arnold Glaser have recently become district cooperators with other farmers in Central Texas Conservation District. Each has set up plans that he will follow to control erosion and improve the tilth and fertility of his land.

Like most other blackland farmers in the district, these feel that one of the main problems is to get the water that falls into the ground so that it can be used for crop production. To do this job they all call on hubam clover.

Joe Mueck, who farms probably the best land in the state, says that even his best land needs hubam clover in rotation at least every three to four years. Joe practices this kind of rotation, then plants winter peas to use as a green manure crop before cotton. Marvin Fergus is constructing a 2,500 cubic yard farm pond on his place six miles south-east of Killeen. The pond, when completed and filled with water, will aid Fergus in carrying out a well balanced grazing program. The pond, which is located in the east pasture, will afford a much better distribution of livestock.

Fergus plans to use hubam sweet clover in combination with small grain for supplemental grazing and to improve the physical condition of the soil.

The small party then traveled on to the Hughes country home where they greeted about 40 of their friends for an evening of dancing and fun on the terrace, during the hours from 8:30 to 12, refreshments of cookies and iced drinks were served.

TELEPHONE TALK

Your 24-Hour Servant

From time to time, friends tell us how their telephone has come in handy in an emergency.

Here, the telephone is a "good friend" in any emergency, big or small. But maybe a lot of us forget about — or take for granted — the many routine yet important things that we do every day by telephone.

Just a lift of the receiver and you're in touch with friends, neighbors, family. Or perhaps the telephone "runs errands" for you to the grocer, drugstore, dry cleaners, or the hardware store.

I've often thought how interesting it would be to keep a record of all the telephone calls you make in just a single week. Bet it would surprise most of us a bit to learn how much we depend on the telephone to make our busy days easier and more enjoyable.

No Time Limit

Many people seem to think we want them to keep their Long Distance conversations short, meaning three minutes or less.

We asked you to do this during World War II so that emergency calls and calls from servicemen could get through.

But since then we have added many new Long Distance circuits. And now you can call whenever you like, and talk as long as you like.

Station-to-Station rates are lower after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday. And remember to call by number — it's twice as fast.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Summer Employee Should Get Social Security Cards

Many school students and house wives plan to work in jobs covered by social security during the summer. These part-time workers will need social security cards, according to Mr. James B. Marley, District Manager of the Austin Social Security Office. Mr. Marley urges all persons who plan to work during the summer and who do not already have social security cards to apply for them immediately. Those who have lost their cards could ask for duplicates. Persons having social security cards at the time they file their applications for jobs will secure employment quicker. Many employers will not hire employees unless they have in their possession social security cards issued in their correct names.

Go to the post office, secure and complete an application, Form SS 5, and mail it to your nearest social security office.

The amount of benefits to which a wage earner or his survivors may be entitled will depend on the amount of wages posted to his old-age and survivors insurance account. A social security account cannot be set up for an individual until he gets a social security card.

Research and practical on the ranch use of chemicals for controlling mesquite, post and black-jack oaks have proved the value of this practice.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER HUNTING FOR BANKER WHO WILL LEND MONEY ON AN INTERNATIONAL TYPE BASIS
Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River probably has his banking terms mixed up, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
I ran across an item in the paper the other day, well actually I didn't run across it, at the time I was sitting under a tree in the shade out here thumbing through a newspaper and it just showed up before me, which appeals to me.

According to it a foreign affairs expert in Washington was arguing that the United States ought to get busy and loan some money to a list of countries he'd been investigating because, he said, if we don't Russia will. The fact that the loans might not by any good when the time came to pay them back didn't enter into it, the idea was to loan them some money before Russia did.

Now there's a type of banking I admire and I wonder why the banks in this country can't rise above their narrow, local viewpoint and get up on the international level.

Take two competing banks. If they'd practice international banking and try to beat each other to a shaky customer just to keep the other one from getting to him, you'd find the wheels of business around here beginning to spin.

Banking with an international flavor is what this country needs, or at least what I need. How much lending business do you think Washington would do with other countries if it applied the narrow rules private bankers use? Make the loan before somebody paying back later... that's the sys else does and worry about the tem I'd like to see put into affect.

One week of this kind of banking and you'd see more merchandise moved off the shelves than you've seen in years but most bankers just can't see it that way, and even if they could, their stock holders couldn't.

If you hear though of any banker getting up on the international level around here and trying to loan me some money before some body else does, let me know. I'd like to get there before the money is all gone.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

CAMERON

Mrs. McAnally Batte

Oak Hill in its original size was surveyed and set aside as a cemetery when the "Old Cemetery" on the River Road seemed to be inadequate. The first grave, that of a man named Kavenish Knight was placed there in 1852. Many of the early families who had relatives buried in the old cemetery continued to use it, while others bought plots in the new cemetery.

The grave of Mrs. Martha Chance Green (grandmother of Mrs. Pearl Clement) is marked with a marble slab which bears the date May 18, 1859. Among the old graves are those of the Stinets, Hoods, Smiths (who were the grandparents of W. C. Wallace), Worchesters and many others. In the old part of the cemetery lie a number of colored slaves, buried beside their masters.

Many who helped to make Cameron what it is today sleep beneath the branches of the lovely oaks in the southwestern portion of Oak Hill Cemetery.

Early day ministers of the Gospel who are buried there are Rev. James Peeler, circuit rider, who preached the Gospel all over Milam County, during th years following the Civil War, J. W. D. Creath, founder of the Cameron Baptist Church in 1813, T. M. Anderson, pastor of the Cameron Baptist Church in 53, T. M. Ander and Rev. George Scarbrough, father of the late Dr. L. R. Scarbrough. The new cemetery was enlarged from time to time as new space was needed. Among the early doctors who are buried there are Dr. N. Cass, Dr. E. N. Shaw, Dr. T. A. Pope, Dr. W. W. Greer, and Dr. Freguson, Dr. Manroe and Dr. Tom Denson of a later day in Cameron lies buried in a newer part of the cemetery near the plot of Dr. J. Z. Young who was the beloved physician of the Buckholts community. In the original part of Oak Hill are buried two men who fought with General Houston at San Jacinto, George Green and Massillon Farley, who held the first court in Milam County.

Many graves scattered over the old part of Oak Hill are marked with the star of the Confederacy, signifying that they fought in defense of the South in the War between the States. In another section lie men who have defended their country in later wars - Royal B. Jeter, veteran of the Spanish American War; from World War I Edwin Hardy, George Luthur, Marshall W. Kemp, Preston Laird, Tom Jeter, Arch Chandler, Dr. John L. Denson, Dr. Elbra Monroe Lawless Green and others.

In the new part of the cemetery are the graves of many men who fought in World War II. Edward Dodson, Clyde Batte, W. T. Caldwell, Billy Batte Bryant, Wm. G. Gillis Jr., Gilbert Hughes, and James T. Shumate.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yoe, who gave to Cameron the beautiful Yoe High School building, sleep among their neighbors in this sacred ground. On the plot where the Cass family is buried is the grave of the only Jew buried in Oak Hill, Mr. J. C. Joseph. Mr. Joseph was born in Russia but was truly an American. For nearly fifty years he lived in the home of Dr. N. Cass, and it is fitting that his remains should rest among the people he loved and who loved him in his adopted land.

It is believed that because of the importance of excellent oak timber in the building of early

Among those who have guided the youth of Cameron through the years, who lie buried in Oak Hill are Mr. Oxenford, Mr. J. E. Watts, Mr. C. F. Spiller, Miss Ada Henderson and Miss Edna Sprinkle.

The beautiful oak trees with the birds singing in their lofty branches spread their shade over the ground where sleep our friends and neighbors, our loved ones, and those who have created and left for us the town of Cameron, where every person we meet is our friend.

Army Anti-Aircraft A Relatively New Field Has Openings

The Army Antiaircraft Command (ARAACOM), a relatively new field in the Army, is accepting enlistments to fill existing vacancies throughout the United States, according to SFC L. A. Dermody of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

Enlistments in this field are open to all qualified young men of this area, regardless of whether they have had prior military service, or antiaircraft training.

Young men who are especially interested in electronics are urged to contact the U. S. Army Recruiting Station 102 North Main Street, Temple, for complete information.

It is believed that because of the importance of excellent oak timber in the building of early American ships, oak leaves were selected as insignia by various corps and ranks of the Navy.

Farm Housing Is Reactivated By New Appropriation

Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor, announced today that eligible farmers in Milam and Burleson Counties may obtain farm housing loans from the Farmers Home Administration. Funds for the loans were recently made available by a supplemental appropriation.

Applications for these loans may be made immediately at the local county offices of the Farmers Home Administration in Cameron and Caldwell, Wright said.

Farm Housing loans may be made for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings, including farmstead water supplies. Interest on loans will be 4 percent per year on the unpaid principal. Repayments may be scheduled over periods up to 33 years. The loans will be secured by a mortgage on the borrower's farm.

Building plans and specifications for the improvements to be financed with the Farm Housing loan will be obtained by the applicant. Farmers Home Administration will review the plans and inspect construction as it progresses to assist the borrower in obtaining construction that meets generally accepted standards of soundness.

The local County FHA Committee determines the eligibility of applicants for Farm Housing loans. To be eligible, Mr. Wright explained, an applicant must be the owner of a farm, be unable to obtain suitable credit for dwellings and other buildings from other lenders, and have enough farm income or income from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses and repay his debts.

The Farm Housing loans are made under the authority of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended. In Texas 1,165 Farm Housing loans have been made for a total of $6,726,135; $1,996,299 of this amount has been repaid. In addition, interest collected through December 31, 1955, totaled $864,030.

The supplemental Appropriation Act which was signed by President Eisenhower May 19, made $5,000,000 available for Farm Housing loans. At present no additional funds are authorized after June 30, 1956. Mr. Wright stated that the Farmers Home Administration also extends credit for Farm Housing under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended.

Henri Dunant, founder of the International Red Cross, was one of the first two men awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1901.

In 1955, a total of 1,650,000 Americans gave an estimated 100,000,000 volunteer hours of service through the American Red Cross to help their neighbors in distress.

Navy To Recruit "Centex" Company

Chief Johnson, USN, Recruiter, Navy Recruiter announced plans to recruit a complete company of Central Texas Area men for service in the Navy. The Central Texas Company would enlist under the banner "CEN-TEX". They will travel together, do recruit training together at San Diego, California, and return home on leave together after nine weeks of recruit training.

The local Navy Recruiter explains that all young men are encouraged to go on to college if possible. If a man is not eligible for deferment, Chief Johnson, feels that nowhere are there greater opportunities to continue general and specialized training than in the Navy. In fact, most of the men who will make up the "CEN-TEX" Company, will be High School Graduates, and thus be eligible for assignment to schools even before they are sworn into the Navy.

Recruitment of special companies from local areas is nothing new, and has proved to be an excellent policy. The "TEXAN" Company, composed of young men throughout Northeast Texas, and enlisted into the Navy at Dallas on April 24th, will be back in Texas on leave around July 4th.

Tomato-Potato Combo Happens In Caldwell Too

A report in the Caldwell News tells of potato vines producing tomatoes.

"Tomato plants growing near the potato patch were cross pollinated by the wind or insects when both sets of plants bloomed at the same time." The Caldwell News states, upon its own authority, and adds that "cross pollination does not produce potatoes at the root of the tomato plants."

Mrs. D. E. Autrey of Second Creek is the raiser of the phenomenal hybrid and promises readers of the Caldwell News proof when she brings in a plant next week.

This same issue of the Herald carries an account of the same thing happening in a garden belonging to Charles Simecek here. The proof of his horticultural freak is already in the window of the Herald. Come see.

Austin Diocese Catholic Lay Retreat In June

Rev. George J. Duda, pastor of St. Monica's Church in Cameron, Texas has announced the eighth annual retreat for Catholic laymen of the Austin Diocese to be held at St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas on June 8, 9 and 10th. Mr. Arvy G. Kunz has been named parish chairman of the retreat. He will handle the details of preregistration and arrange for group transportation to Austin.

The Very Rev. Lewis J. Reicher Bishop of the Austin Diocese has issued an Episcopal letter urging all Catholic laymen to attend this outstanding spiritual event.

For eight years, Catholic men of central Texas have journeyed to Austin for these retreats. Men from all walks of life, business, professional and tradesmen spend two and a half days in complete silence and meditation. This provides an excellent opportunity for evaluation of spiritual needs and strengthens faith. A retreat is a concentration of prayer and reflection. In this way, the problems and anxieties of the modern world are put into proper perspective. It is primarily a time of renewed spiritual effort.

Rev. Richard J. Kennedy, C.S.C., famous Holy Cross missionary from Notre Dame, Indiana, will be the retreat master. It will be his responsibility to direct conferences, hear confessions and conduct religious ceremonies.

Improved Living Goal of 4-H'ers

Comfortable homes, modern conveniences, safe communities, and recreation for all, are the goals of 4-H Club members throughout the country participating in the National 4-H Home Improvement, Electric, Safety and Recreation Programs. Boys and girls carry out "do-it-yourself" ideas by improving their homes, learning new and improved uses for electricity, practicing safety at all times, and taking the lead in recreation activities.

Incentives valued at $100,000 are provided through the National 4-H Award Programs in four areas to encourage members to do more and better work. Home Improvement awards are given by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Electric honors by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Safety incentives by General Motors; and Recreation awards by the United States Rubber Company.

In each of the programs, four gold-filled medals are offered for county winners. State honors consist of expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. At the Congress, national awards of $300 college scholarships will be presented to six winners each in Electric and Recreation, and eight champions in Home Improvement and Safety.

Local clubs in each county reporting outstanding Recreation and Safety programs will be presented certificates of honor. Certificates are also provided for the ten clubs reporting the best Safety programs will be presented certificates of honor. Certificates are also provided for the ten clubs reporting the best Safety programs in the State, and $20.00 cash awards are given to State blue award winner clubs in Recreation.

Leader training funds are made available in the Recreation Program. Each year, over 20,000 adult and junior leaders receive training made possible with these funds.

All of the programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the award programs arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Complete information is available at county Extension offices.

Lockjaw Germ Resembles Microscopic Lollipop

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is a very serious disease caused by a tiny germ that looks like a stick with a ball on one end - something like a microscopic lollipop, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. This ball is called a spore and it is the seed of the germ. Lockjaw germs are found in the soil, especially in manured soil of the barnyard or garden; in blank cartridges; etc. - in fact, just about everywhere. These germs grow best in deep wounds where there is considerable tissue destruction and in which chips of glass, wood splinters, or grains of dirt have been embedded. They do not grow on raw surfaces in the presence of air.

Every accident seen by the physician must be considered from the lockjaw angle; and whenever there is any question, tetanus antitoxin should be given, for it is the antitoxin that has helped to keep the incidence of lockjaw at its low level. Your physician will advise you as to its use. Its disadvantages are that it does not get rid of the lockjaw germs in the wound; and it does sometimes cause hives and other disagreeable symptoms for a few days; particularly if the subject has had previous injections. Should lockjaw develop, it requires much antitoxin and entails great expense; and even then, not all cases can be saved.

It is not possible to free the environment of lockjaw germs, but now there is a method of active immunization. The subject becomes his own manufacturing establishment for antitoxin to combat lockjaw poison.

One nice feature about the treatment is that it can be combined with diphtheria and whooping cough prophylaxis. The current immunization is, preferably, carried out in infancy. Should a child already have had his diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine injections, he can take the lockjaw toxoid injection alone; and these can be given at any time with very little discomfort.

Niley Smith To Visit Fabulous Collins 'Centime'

Niley J. Smith of Cameron has been named to serve on the Executive Board of the Association of Former Students, Texas A & M College. The Board will meet June 1-3, at Dr. Paul Collins' "Centime" Ranch near Wichita Falls, J. B. Hervey, executive secretary has announced.

The ranch was so named because the owner spent his "Last Centime" building the elaborate ranch house.

Plant history may be in the making in a garden belonging to Charles Simecek who lives on the Temple Highway.

A unique plant of a definite hybrid nature was brought into the Cameron Herald last week which was reportedly grown on the Simecek homestead. It has potatoes at the base of the plant and further up on the vine what definitely looks like some small tomatoes.

Some of the plants were left to grow and further development of the peculiar combination will be reported later Johnny Gelnor, nephew of the horticulturist Simecek, promised.

Gelnor left a specimen of the freak plant at the Herald for anyone who cares to inspect. Charles Simecek works at Ideal Hatchery.

He restoreth your soul.

Vets Could Trade Non-Interest Leave Bonds For 3% E's

Thousands of World War II veterans in Texas are holding Armed Forces Leave Bonds that have drawn no interest for five years or longer, and Uncle Sam would like to pay up - an average of $200 apiece.

Jesse L. Adams, Jr., state sales director of the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds Division, has an idea for these ex-G.I.'s who apparently don't need the money right now. He suggests they redeem those Leave Bonds and put the money in Series E Savings Bonds, which pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity of nine worth $26 million.

In the country as a whole, 130,000 veterans hold Leave Bonds worth 126 million.

Now the Treasury would like to clear its books of this bond issue," Mr. Adams said, "and is calling on all veterans' organizations to help locate the 130,000 bond owners. Then when these bonds are cashed, I can think of no better place to put the money than in safe, sure, indestructible United States Savings Bonds And," Mr. Adams added, "if you don't have any Leave Bonds, Savings Bonds are still a good buy."

Periodic Check On Social Security Account Advised

It is a good thing to request a statement of the earnings credited to your social security account at least once every three or four years. It is especially advisable to do so if you have reason to believe your social security account to be incorrect. For example, you should do so if you have reason to believe that your employer did not show your social security number correctly on the reports he made of your wages for old-age and survivors insurance purposes. Also, if you failed to copy your name and social security number correctly when you reported your self-employment earnings on Schedule C, or, if you are a farm operator, on Schedule F of Income Tax Form 1040, you should check to see whether these earnings were correctly credited to your account.

Social security earnings statements are not generally suitable for income tax purposes because they are not sufficiently up-to-date to meet income tax deadlines. Statements of earnings credited to your social security account for 1955, for instance, will not be available before the last half of 1956 - after the due date for filing a 1955 income tax return. Also total yearly earnings shown on a social security statement of earnings are limited to the first $4,200 of taxable income as social security taxes do not apply to yearly earnings in excess of that amount.

Monthly benefits which may be payable to you and your family in your old age, or to your dependents in case of your death depend on the earnings credited to your social security account. So it is important to you and to them that your account be absolutely correct. To obtain an earnings statement, get in touch with your social security office. Just ask for the special post card used for this purpose.
